OUT ON THE LIMB with George Vierhus

THERE WERE SOME interesting reactions after the figures on the special county census (Countdown 66) were released.

Especially intriguing was the editorial that appeared in the San Jose Mercury entitled "Plan Now for San Jose's Future Growth".

The editorial pointed out the obvious fact that San Jose was "far and away" the largest city in the county, and it was the fastest growing. The census showed that San Jose with a population of 360,000 had grown by 56.8% in the past six years.

BUT THE EDITORIAL posed another conclusion that to us was not quite so obvious.

We quote: "Significantly, except for San Jose and Sunnyvale, none of the county's other cities appeared to be growing at a particularly rapid rate."

While we agree that San Jose is huge (compared to Campbell and the other cities) and a growth of 56.8% is tremendous, the census figures showed that three cities, Cupertino, Milpitas and Los Gatos, DOUBLED their population during the last six years and that Campbell increased its population by 78%.

WITHOUT TAKING the time to prove any of our own mathematic conclusions, we find that there were 10 cities in the county that showed a greater percentage of growth in the last six years than did San Jose.

Now don't get us wrong.

We are willing to concede that San Jose is BIG..and will get bigger.

It's growth has been fantastic and shuddering.

But we submit that growth per se is a relative factor.

Far be it from us to brag that our community is the "fastest-growing community in the west". We have never figured out why being big just for bigness sake is so important.

Our point is, however, that the Merc editorial was a little misleading.

When at least 10 cities in the county have shown a higher percentage of growth than San Jose in the past six years, it seems ridiculous to conclude that "none of the other cities appeared to be growing at a particularly rapid rate".

Mathematically speaking, that is.

WHAT WE ARE trying to convey to the Merc editorial writers is that while San Jose's growth was tremendous (155,406 in six years), the other cities didn't exactly stand still either.

If San Jose's growth has been a big problem, one might say that the other cities' problems

Two Campbell girls win top scholarships

Two girls from Campbell have been awarded Regents Scholarships to the University of California. They are Terri Corn, a Westmont High School senior, and Judith Wanschura, who will graduate next week from Notre Dame High School in San Jose.

A Regents Scholarship is one of the highest honors that can be given for undergraduate study at the University. Awards may be honorary in nature or may vary in amount up to the full cost of required fees, board and room, books and supplies and other expenses.

Miss Corn, 17, resides with her mother, Mrs. Lois D. Corn, at 1671 Whitwood Lane, Campbell, and is an honor student at Westmont. She intends to major in English at the Santa Cruz Campus of the University.

Judith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Wanschura of 626 Louise Court, Campbell majored in chemistry at Notre Dame and hopes to go to medical school. She attended St. Joseph's grade school in Mountain View where the family previously lived.

Her father is employed by United Air Lines in San Francisco. At Notre Dame she was active in the Sodality of Our Lady and dramatics and is valedictorian of her class. She will enter the University of California in Riverside in the fall.

County zoning concerns city

Another test (a zone-change hearing in the San Tomas area) is scheduled at the County Planning Commission level on June 15 which could possibly affect the present somewhat strained Campbell-county relationship.

Following closely on the heels of the recent county action approving the drive-in theater on Union Ave., which ignored Campbell's objections. the new zone-change request again touches a sensitive county-city nerve.

Ironically, at the supervisors' request, a joint meeting between the supervisors and Campbell council members has been scheduled for June 20. The meeting is one of a series with various city councils, to discuss how to improve the county-cities relationship.

Up for a zone change agency (from residential to heavy commercial) is property on the southwest corner of Hacienda and Burrows (San Tomas).

Although Campbell city limits extend on three sides of the property, the area is in

Planners to meet

Approval of plans for the second phase of Campbell Plaza Shopping Center, at 2501 Winchester Blvd., including a 750-seat theater and a variety store, will feature the next meeting of the Planning Commission on Monday, June 6, at the city hall.

The plans also call for eight other smaller commercial type shops to be constructed. Pursley Construction Co. is presenting the plans.

UNUSUAL DECORATION--When Dr. W. R. Morgan, long-time Campbell dentist, made a final inspection of a house at 34 S. 4th St., which he owns and is soon to be demolished, he made a startling discovery.

He found a headstone beside the fireplace. The morbid bit of interior decoration apparently had been left by the last tenants, a group of West Valley College youths.

The lettering on the three-foot high relic of some unknown cemetery revealed that it had marked the grave of Guido Muth Mangenberg, born Feb. 11, 1826 and died Nov. 9, 1887.

C. of C. gains 10 new members during May

With 10 new members joining the Campbell Chamber of Commerce during May, the total membership is now 288, according to Jim Duffield, C. of C. manager.

The total membership has more than doubled during the past 10 months to set an all-time record high.

Those joining the C. of C. during May included; George Cohan, of California Shingle & Shake Co., 25 Railway Ave.; Charles O. Smith, Campbell Animal Hospital, 186 E. Sunnyoaks; Mike Murotsune, Campbell Car Care Center, 2250 Winchester Blvd.; Ted J. Regas, Central Valley National Bank (San Jose main office);

Charles Cole, Charlie Cole Handwriting & Employment Agency, 1166 El Solyo Ave.; J. and M. Palmer, J & M Distributors, 2150 Winchester; G. Ed Pomeroy, Hamilton Meridian Insurance, 1777 Hamilton;

Enos and Gladys Zimmerman, Speedy Burger, 2025 Winchester; Fred M. Sullivan, Sullivan's Home Service, 100 W. Rincon; Jack Fox, The Chinchilla Guild of America, 111 Lost Lake Lane.

Aero Drugs transaction

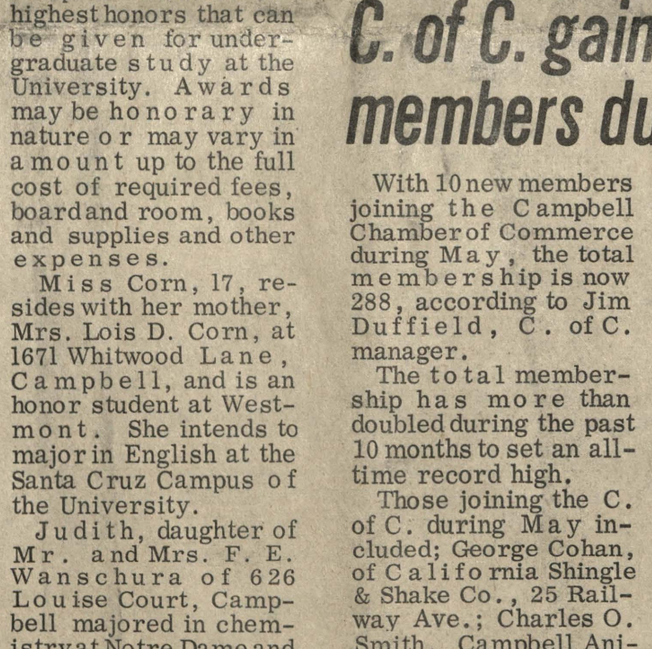
Drug store sale involves two long-time Campbell residents



AERO DRUGS CHANGES HANDS - Richard Salice (left) proprietor of Aero Drugs, has sold the pharmacy to Allan Blaine, member of an old Campbell family. Aero Drugs, located at 2075 Winchester Blvd., is the second oldest pharmacy in Campbell, having been operated by Salice since 1947.

The ownership of Aero Drugs at 2075 Winchester Blvd. has changed hands, from one Campbell family to another. Richard Salice, who has operated the pharmacy since 1947 has sold his interest to Allan Blaine, scion of an old Campbell family. Blaine was formerly manager of the Hamilton Ave. Prescription Pharmacy. The sale took place on April 18.

Salice's plans call for retirement to an apricot ranch in Patterson, Calif. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Salice of Pollard Road, Salice is a graduate of Campbell Grammar School and Los Gatos High School where he was on the football team.

He obtained his Bachelor of Science degree from the Uni-

Governor's wife tours creek area

ON TOUR--Mrs. Edmund G. Brown, wife of the governor, as chairman of the Governor's Advisory Committee on California Beauty, last Wednesday paid a brief visit to Campbell and inspected the Los Gatos Creek as part of a guided tour conducted by local civic leaders, including members of the Campbell Garden Club, boosters for community beautification.

After a brief stop at Campbell Park, city officials joined Mrs. Brown's party and took a bus tour of the creek area which culminated at Vasona Park.

Two endorsements

Voters will go to the polls next Tuesday, June 7, in California to cast ballots in the "primary election".

The "primary" is sort of a preliminary bout to the main event in November. The basic reason for the election, of course, is for the parties to nominate their candidates.

It replaces the party convention system and supposedly allows the electorate to participate in the nomination of the standard-bearers for the political parties.

Because the election next Tuesday is more or less purely a nominating operation for the partisan offices, The Campbell Press editorially is not making any endorsements for those offices.

Your editor, naturally, has his own opinion as to the candidates he favors for the party nominations on both tickets from the governor's race on down. In many instances, of course, the party candidate is unopposed for nomination so actually there would be no point in making any endorsement anyway.

So we will hold off until November.

But there are some non-partisan offices up for grabs next Tuesday. And that's a different story, for in most cases next Tuesday's election will decide the winner.

There has been considerable heat generated in the rate for county assessor where Dwight L. Mathiesen, the incumbent, is being challenged by Almin B. Barnes, a school teacher.

Unfortunately, we have been unable to come up with any answer in this race, so we are not making any endorsement. Let your conscience be your guide, if that is any help.

FOR SUPERVISOR

In the race for supervisor in the fourth district of which most of Campbell is a part, RALPH MEHRKENS, incumbent, is opposed by Henry Batis and Robert Maynard.

RALPH MEHRKENS
--for supervisor

The Press unhesitatingly endorses Mehrkens for reelection.

Mehrkens was originally appointed to the board in 1960 and subsequently re-elected twice.

In our opinion Mehrkens has represented the district well. He knows the problems of the county and has been especially sympathetic to the needs of the Campbell area.

He is a dedicated public servant and, in our opinion, deserves reelection.

FOR SUPERIOR JUDGE

The other office for which The Press offers an endorsement of a candidate is that of Superior Court Judge, office No. 5.

There are eight candidates for the one vacant seat on the Superior Court bench. Chances are that the final decision will not be made until November, since no candidate next Tuesday can expect to garner a majority of the votes cast.

BRUCE ALLEN
--for judge

The Press strongly endorses BRUCE ALLEN, former long-time assemblyman (1953-62) and a practicing attorney in San Jose since 1940.

Allen, while in the assembly, was responsible for writing some of the state's most effective school and criminal legislation.

He has served as a member of the West Valley College board of trustees from the beginning and was the first chairman of the board.

Allen's integrity is unquestioned. Even those with whom he has disagreed on various issues have no qualms about supporting him. His forthrightness and his demand for fair-play has been a refreshing trait on the political, legal and educational scene.

We think he will make an excellent superior court judge. We urge his election to the bench.

have been little ones.

That's a relative point.

And you can take that any way you want.

THAT CIVIC GROUPS are ready to cooperate in an annual clean-up-improvement crusade of Los Gatos Creek area was indicated this week when Robert Wurfer, long-time active in the Orchard City Grange, reported that the Grange was anxious to take an active part in such an event.

As you know this year's "crusade" was done on a sort of crash program basis. There was not sufficient time to contact many of the local civic organizations.

But it was so successful, nevertheless, that the Council's beautification committee, which spearheaded the drive, has recommended that it become an annual community-wide affair.

With ample time (almost a year) to contact the clubs, schools and church groups, we are convinced that the community may really have something going for it that should not be dropped.

The Grange should be commended for taking the initiative without being asked.

ZIP CODE numbers are slowly becoming a way of life in this computer-number age. But there is a far piece to go yet, in that field.

Although people seem to be making an effort to put the proper zip numbers on their mailings, all postal clerks are not completely zip-number conscious yet.

Recently a package meant for The Press mailed from L.A. traveled all the way to Alabama first before arriving at the proper destination.

Careless typing in L.A. somehow turned "Calif" into "Alabama" in the address on the package. Into the deep south went the package.

It was rerouted from Birmingham, Ala. when some alert postal clerk there probably couldn't locate any Campbell, Ala.

Or he may have noticed the zip number for Campbell that was displayed prominently on the package.

NEXT TUESDAY'S primary election has not generated as much heat as will be the case come next November.

Still in all there will be a number of races decided in the primary.

In others just the party's choice will be selected and in some the top two candidates will make the run-off for November.

For a variety of reasons (sound or unsound as the case may be), The Press editorially is making only two endorsements for next Tuesday's voting, both for non-partisan offices.

THE PRESS URGES the election of BRUCE ALLEN for Superior Court Judge and the reelection of RALPH MEHRKENS for supervisor of district 4.

Our personal (as differentiated from editorial) choice for the Democratic nod for assemblyman of the 24th district is LARRY FARGHER, a Santa Clara councilman, who is tabled a "moderate" Democrat. We believe there is need for more "moderation" in government.

There are five candidates seeking the Democratic nomination, but there will be no run-off.

It will be just Rep vs. Dem in November.

CONTROL BURNING - The above pictured house, located on Dillon Ave., was recently burned by the Campbell Fire Department as part of the department's training program.

The house had been condemned by the city. Fire Marshal Gene Borden reports that since the start of the year, 22 houses have been burned by the fire department as part of the control burning program.

It is estimated that since the fire department instituted the program, working in conjunction with the city's building department in the removing of condemned structures, almost 100 buildings have been burned.

Voters pick party nominees in next Tuesday's primary election

Voters in California will go to the polls next Tuesday, June 7, in the primary election to name their party's choice for the November election. On the ballot, also, will be candidates for non-partisan races that could be decided next Tuesday.

Interest statewide had centered on the governor's race, especially on the Republican side where Ronald Reagan and George Christopher are seeking the GOP nod.

Governor Pat Brown seeking his third term, is challenged by Mayor Sam Yorty of Los Angeles on the Democratic ticket. Other state partisan office holders seeking re-election also face opposition, although some is token side.

On the county level, eight candidates seek the office of Superior Judge (No. 5), practically assuring a run-off between the two top vote-getters in November.

County Assessor Dwight Mathiesen, appointed to the office last year after more than 20 years in the department, is opposed by Almin B. Barnes, a school teacher. This race, of course, will be decided Tuesday.

Supervisor Ralph Mehrkens (District 4) on the board since 1960 has two opponents, Henry Batis and Robert Maynard.

There are six candidates seeking the Democratic nomination for assemblyman in the 24th district, Jack Armstong, Larry Fargher, Janus Hendricks, William Jennings, Paul Latz, and John Vasconcellos.

In the 25th district which also includes part of Campbell, William Stanton, incumbent, is opposed by Robert Kaiser on the Democratic side with Earle Crandall, retiring San Jose school superintendent, the sole GOP candidate.

State Senator Clark Bradley is the only Republican candidate with Edward Freitas on the Democratic ticket.

Al Alquist, present 24th district assemblyman, is seeking the new 13th State Senate seat and is the only Democratic candidate. David Curphey and William Bradley are the Republican hopefuls.

Assemblyman George Milias, whose district formerly included Campbell, is unopposed for the GOP nod in the 22nd district. On the Democratic side are Lawrence Olinger and Lee Portner.

District Attorney Louis P. Bergna and Sheriff Charles J. Prelsnik are unopposed.

Municipal Judge Richard W. Rhodes, of the Los Gatos-Campbell-Saratoga court, is unopposed for reelection. His name as well as seven other unopposed municipal judges will not appear on the ballot.

U.S. Representative Charles Gubser is unopposed for GOP nomination with George Leppert on the Democratic slate.

A $275,000,000 bond issue for public schools is also on the ballot.

Campbell High grad killed in Viet Nam

Military rites were held in Parker, Ariz., last week for Specialist 4 Michael Patrick, 20, who was killed while serving with the U.S. Army in Viet Nam. Patrick is the first alumni of Campbell High School to become a Viet Nam casualty.

He was a 1963 graduate of Campbell High and a student at San Jose City College before joining the Army paratroopers. He was a member of the De-Molay in Campbell.

Patrick was killed May 17 by an enemy grenade. He was a machine gunner in the 503rd Infantry, 173rd Airborne and had been in Viet Nam eight months. He was to return home in September. A native of Phoenix, he had lived in San Jose and Campbell for 13 years.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard L. Patrick, publishers of a Mancos, Col. newspaper, and two sisters, Pamela Patrick of Mancos and Mrs. Lynn Davis of Oklahoma City.

REED & GRAHAM INC.

One of Santa Clara Valley's pioneer firms, and one which has played an integral role in our progress and development is Reed & Graham, Inc. From the firm's advent into business more than three decades ago they have grown to become the largest asphaltic plant in the valley whose materials have been used over most of our streets and highways.

Everything from prime coat to seal coat is batched at Reed & Graham Inc. in one of their three plants. Both hot and cold plant mix, road oils, emulsified asphalt and road dust control materials are produced under quality control conditions.

No finer executive staff could be imagined than that which has guided the firm through its rise to success. This staff is headed by C. E. Reed, president; G. R. Graham, vice-president; and Joseph S. Vosti, general manager all of whom are highly regarded for their business sagacity. They have additionally enmeshed themselves in the civic affairs of Santa Clara Valley and are highly regarded for the roles they have played as private citizens. We are indebted to such individuals as these and are pleased to add our public laudation to their firm of Reed & Graham Inc.

EUROPEAN MOTORS

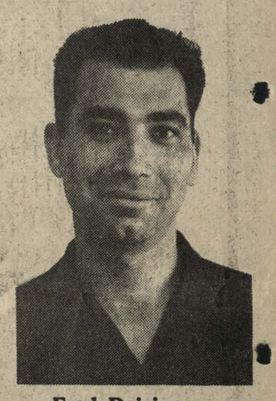
A highly successful business enterprise and one that has won the plaudits of the public it serves is European Motors, the popular imported car repair shop at 2921 Winchester Boulevard. Genial co-proprietors Fred Deisinger and Robert Walters have equipped their garage with every scientific device for motor analysis and repair and they employ only qualified factory trained specialists who have a proven background of experience and accomplishment in the foreign car field.



Fred Deisinger

European Motors make a specialty of repairing and servicing the Volkswagen and Porche automobiles and the staff has demonstrated that it knows every nut and bolt on these, and has proven that they know how to get every atom of power from these models. Thus it is that the establishment of this business has filled an important niche in the commercial life of our community.

Robert Walters

Both Fred Deisinger and Robert Walters are known in the community as conscientious business men who base their credo on integrity and reliability in all transactions. The role they play as businessmen and as public spirited citizens adds to our stature as a community.

ON CAPITOL HILL

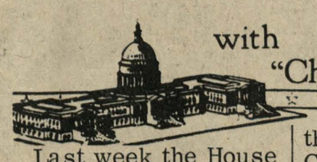
with "Charlie" Gubser



Last week the House passed a minimum wage for agriculture.

Believing it to be in the best interest of California farmers, I supported it and offered an amendment to cover all farmers.

Democratic sponsors of the bill defeated my amendment; so as matters now stand most farmers outside California are exempt.

Since 1950 California farm wages have nearly doubled while prices received for farm produce have not increased markedly and in some cases have declined. Yet, California farmers who pay some of the highest farm wages are the target of various groups who say they are not paying enough.

In Delano, Schenley grape pickers averaged $2.72 per hour last fall. Twenty percent of one grape pruning crew for DiGiorgio Farms earned between $1.66 and $1.74 per hour for the payroll period ending Feb. 18; while 80% made between $1.83 and $2.39 per hour.

Such wages are above the average. But they are, nevertheless, the wages which are the target of one of history's most significant agricultural strikes.

California farmers feel that if they are a target under such circumstances, it is wrong to exempt 60% of all agricultural workers from a minimum wage who work for their competitors across the nation. They rightfully feel that their competitors should at least pay $1 per hour instead of the 60-75 cents which is so common in other states.

It is easy to say that increased farm wages can be absorbed with "just a few pennies per can" increase at the supermarket. This overlooks the realities of competition from other states which do not pay a decent living wage.

In 1950 a #2 1/2 can of cling peaches cost the consumer an average of 28.7 cents. Today it costs 35.2 cents for an increase of about 23% in 16 years. Over this same period farm wages have almost doubled while farm prices have remained disproportionately lower.

California cannery wages in those 16 years have gone from $1.37 to $2.70 per hour. And, in the meantime, according to the latest figures, the low net profit of the canning industry has gone down to 1.7% of sales--one of the lowest such ratios in all industry.

The record of California farmers and food processors in accepting higher costs and lower profits while keeping food prices below the percentage increase of all other items in the Consumer Price Index is indeed noteworthy.

But the question arises: "How long can they live with discriminatory freight rates to terminal markets, pay higher wages than anyone else, and absorb the difference by automation, increased efficiency and lowered profits?"

By failing to extend the minimum wage provisions to all agricultural workers in every state, the House lost an opportunity to partially equalize some of the competitive factors which have prevented the California farmer from setting an even more brisk pace in improving conditions for the agricultural worker.

Instead of taking pot shots at the frontrunner while granting immunity to his competition, those who are directing the attack against California might have more wisely served their cause last week by concentrating on the laggards.

county territory and zone change request of Jess Monroe and Steve Musso, owners, has been submitted to the county.

The property is located directly south of the recently approved P-D (planned development) shopping center now being developed by Topaz Builders.

Campbell officials maintain that the proposed rezoning, based on the other developments in the area, is unwarranted at this time.

In a report to the City Council last night (after press time) Dick Hogan, planning director, emphasized that the city is in the process of developing precise neighborhood plans for the entire area and until a firm policy is established, he urged all rezoning of commercial properties in the area be denied.

American Savings plan to keep headquarters in San Jose

American Savings, Northern California's largest savings and loan association, recently announced its decision to retain its administrative headquarters in San Jose.

According to American Savings president S. Mark Taper, preliminary pland had indicated the possibility of the giant 1 1/4 billion-dollar institution moving its headquarters to San Francisco.

"However, further special planning by our own research department pointed the way towards fuller utilization of our existing three buildings in San Jose in the location where the institution was founded 81 years ago, in 1885."

Situated at 41, 55 and 81 West Santa Clara in downtown San Jose, American Savings' modern headquarters building houses the administrative "nerve center" of the institution's system of 32 offices in northern California from Sacramento, Vallejo, Oakland-East Bay and San Rafael, to San Francisco, the Peninsula, Santa Clara Valley and Monterey.

Its 52,500 square feet of space accommodates the company's executive offices, financial and accounting departments, automated computer data center, real estate loan division, savings department and branch administrative offices.

Taper explained, "Our research staff has presented the facts - which indicate the Santa Clara Valley as one of the nation's finest environments for our headquarters work force; the growth of this area - residentially, industrially and culturally, during the past years, has been prodigious, as compared to other areas in northern California and the nation.

We of American Savings are proud of the part we have played since 1885 in assisting in this growth; we intend to dedicate our resources and facilities to further promote the solid, dynamic expansion and progress of San Jose and the Santa Clara County," said Taper.

Founded in San Jose in 1885, as San Jose Building and Loan Association, the company moved into its first major home-office building at 81 West Santa Clara in downtown San Jose in 1927, where it remained after becoming Pioneer Investors Savings.

The institution outgrew these premises in 1960, and built ultra-modern twin buildings almost nextdoor to keep pace with the expansion of its headquarters, staff and facilities.

Sanitation District 4 to use bond funds for construction

Sanitation District No. 4 directors have approved plans to go ahead with marketing of bonds to produce funds sometime after July of this year.

The proposed sale of $1,120,000 will help finance the district's sizable 1966-67 fiscal year construction program. The bonds are part of the $7,500,000 approved by voters last year.

To date Sanitation District No. 4 has expended $2,606,713 for acquisition of capacity in the San Jose-Santa Clara Water Pollution Control Plant; $1,025,740 for acquisition of capacity in interceptor and trunk sewers owned by the City of San Jose; and $509,201 for the construction of trunk sewers within District No. 4.

A total of $3,666,535 of the $7,500,000 bond issue of 1965 has been expended and actual costs of sewerage facilities have been close to estimated costs used to arrive at the amount of the bond issue.

To date the total cost of facilities have exceeded the cost estimated by only .79 per cent.

For next year's budget, the District has plans on the drawing boards for $619,380 in trunk sewer construction, covering over 13 miles.

Sanitation District No. 4 will also contribute $165,451 toward further expansion of the San Jose-Santa Clara Water Pollution Control Plant and the City of San Jose interceptor sewer system during fiscal year 1966-67.

Liquor fees total $4,794 in six months

The City of Campbell has received $4,794 as its six-month share of the special fees paid by holders of alcoholic beverage licenses.

The payment was made by the state's department of alcoholic beverage control which allocates 90% of all license fee money back to individual cities and counties where it is used to offset the costs of police and fire protection, schools, highways, hospitals and other government services.

The remaining 10% goes into the state's general fund where it is used for similar purposes.

The most recent payment was for the six-month period ending Feb. 28, 1966. Santa Clara County as a whole, including the unincorporated area, received $273,585 for the period.

A package store beer and wine license costs the owner $37 with a yearly renewal fee of $12. A general on-sale tavern license costs $6,580 originally.

WVC department heads to get salary hikes

West Valley College board has appointed Robert G. Fricke to serve as assistant to the president in the first year of the administrative internship program, at a salary of $1,000 above his present faculty rate as instructor in political science and history.

In a parallel matter, the board named seven faculty members as division chairmen, also at a salary figure $1,000 above their present stipend.

Those named are Bert W. Barnett, physical education; John W. Fleming, language arts; George C. Grubb Jr., engineering and technology; Richard D. Hayden, social sciences; Kenneth W. Jewell, humanities and fine arts; E. Thomas Perry, business education; and DeBoyd R. Smith, science and mathematics.

Another faculty member for next year was added to the staff, in the person of Mrs. Betty M. Cunningham, business education. She has a B.A. in her field from San Jose State, and should complete work for her M.A. there in August. She has taught at Los Altos High School and Foothill College.

Finally, the board created the position of Vocational Administrative Intern and appointed James L. Hoerner to that post. The state pays 75 per cent of his $13,050 salary, with the district paying the remainder.

West Valley College budget allows for drop in tax rate

That the present overall tax rate for West Valley College of 65 cents per $100 assessed valuation may be reduced almost 15 cents to 50.6 cents loomed as a good possibility based on the tentative budget that was submitted to the trustees last week.

The tentative budget totaled $5,055,401, a decrease of $271,926 from last year.

The tentative budget, which was reviewed in detail by Business Manager James Hardy, was taken under advisement by the board and will be considered for final adoption at the June 16 meeting.

The budget, it was pointed out, is based on the present salary schedule, and is subject to changes by the board at the June 16 session.

The suggested decrease in taxes comes about, Hardy said, by the fact that increasingly, students in the West Valley College district are no longer having to go to other junior colleges in the area, so that tuition fees paid out elsewhere will now remain at home.

A second reason is the State Supreme decision of last year which required that the tax for tuition payments be levied on the basis of the estimated rather than actual costs.

This decision resulted in a surplus in the tuition fund of approximately $250,000 which is being passed on the district's taxpayers in a reduced tax rate for the fiscal year 1966-67.

Hardy explained also that the budget proposed is based on estimated increase in assessed valuation of the district by some $40 million, on an estimate of average daily attendance of students for 1966-67 of 4,018 as against 3,405 in the under 21-age group, for an 18 per cent increase, and 805 adult students, against 779 last year for a 3.3 increase.

It is also based on the assumption that the state financial program for the support of junior colleges would remain constant during the 1966-67 school year.

In all, some 42 new positions are in the proposed budget, with 24 of them previously approved, new faculty members. The remainder are clerical and other office help.

The salary proposal for the fiscal year which was presented by Dr. Wallace Hall, college president, and approved by the board, included the so-called "two for one" principle, wherein the salary for the top step in the highest category of preparation is equal to twice the beginning step in the first category of preparation.

The board agreed, however, to defer it for a week to enable faculty members to study it before the next meeting.

John Fleming, representing the faculty committee, had objected to the proposal of Donald Lindstrom, trustee, that the plan in principle be adopted rather than being definitely committed by the board for a two-year period.

The plan would set certificated salary schedules from a low of $6,950 base to $13,414 at the top step after 12 years, an increase over the present top of $12,650. It also would have committed the board to a policy of arriving at a 2-1 ratio in the 1967-68 school year with a top of $13,900.

New brochures outline courses at WV College

Four new occupational brochures in a series that will eventually comprise an even dozen, are now available at West Valley College.

The attractive, multi-colored brochures, prepared on the campus, relate to four separate educational areas offered by the college, home economics, medical assisting, secretarial, and electronics.

The home economics brochure outlines, in picture and word, the opportunities offered in a two-year program in such areas as nursery school assistant, textiles and retail merchandising, nutrition and food service, as well as an area called "home and family living electives," which trains students for a better home and family life.

The medical assisting brochure places emphasis on modern medical office techniques. It trains students to "assist a physician or other members of medical organizations, in either a hospital, clinic or private physicians office."

The secretarial brochure outlines the courses offered in dictation and transcribing, filing, making appointments, answering the telephone and placing calls, reading and sorting mail, acting as a receptionist and assisting with the preparation of reports.

The electronics course explains electronic technology, and outlines the continued expansion of the department.

WVC paint job may cost $27,150

It will cost an estimated $27,150 for reroofing and painting the temporary campus of West Valley College (the former Campbell Grammar School) the college trustees learned last week.

The board adopted the specifications and referred them to the college landlord, Campbell Union (elementary) School District.

The renovation of the campus would include roof repairs totaling $11,000, a single-coat exterior paint job for $14,000 and painting the auditorium, exclusive of the backstage area, $1,250.

According to preliminary discussion, the school district would do the renovating and the college district would pay for it via the rental route.

County executive recommends $124,627,341 budget for year

Santa Clara County Executive Howard W. Campen recommended to the Board of Supervisors this week a total budget of $124,627,341 to pay for county services during the 1966-67 fiscal year.

The proposal represents a 15%, or $16,273,883, rise above current 1965-66 budget of $108,353,458 but a smaller increase percentagewise than last year. The 1965-66 budget climbed 17.6%, or $16,216,693.

Campen did not predict a property tax rate because assessed valuation totals, reliable revenue estimates, and totals of funds available for carryover will not be available until just before July 6, when the Board of Supervisors begin their annual budget hearings.

All of these figures are necessary in computing a tax rate.

Campen's new figure includes a county library budget of $1,590,597, up $206,599 from last year. The library tax is assessed only on those living in unincorporated areas or in the several cities served by the County Free Library system.

The county's uniform budgeting procedure, actually a year-round activity, brings departmental budget proposals under scrutiny of a battery of analysis. This year, Campen and his staff trimmed $2,618,666 from department requests by this method in order to hold the recommended total increase to 15%.

This process, over the years, has kept the tax rate consistently down with the lowest among major California counties in spite of Santa Clara County's spectacular population growth, up 43% in just the last six years.

Major budget increases recommended by the County Executive included an additional $2,180,000 for public protection, encompassing judicial, legal, Sheriff, probation, and other such services.

Public assistance, consisting of various kinds of aid to needy citizens, also came in for a raise of $2,460,000 over last year, but this actually represented a percentage decrease of 4.9%, from 51.9% to 47% of the total county budget.

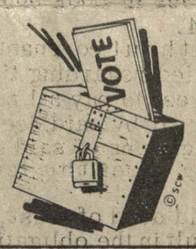
A real bright spot in the recommendations is the decreased budget proposed for the hospital care categories of public assistance, resulting from expectation of federal and state medicare money.

A roads budget increase of $4,800,000 largely reflects a new budgeting method by which both county and city shares of cooperative road projects are shown in the county budget, with city reimbursements to the county of $2,000,000 shown elsewhere in the budget as offsetting revenue.

In prior years, city shares were not shown in the county budget.

A proposed capital improvements program of $3,340,000 continues the current 10 cent tax rate for needed county buildings.

Campen's new recommendations call for a net increase of 496 new employees to perform required county services. Of these, 221 will have 50% to 100% of their salaries reimbursed from federal and state funds.



LEAVING ON TOUR--Bus Carrying official party composed of Mrs. Edmund G. Brown, wife of the governor, and city officials prepares to leave Campbell Park on guided tour of Los Gatos Creek area.

CUB SCOUTS

PACK 317

Cub Scout Pack 317, sponsored by Coventry Home and School Club, held its May pack meeting recently at Bucknall School. The colors were presented by Den 4.

The blue ribbon for proficiency that the pack won at the recent Scout-o-Rama was on display. The pack is particularly proud of this award considering that it was the first Scout-a-Rama that they had participated in.

Also on display was the Red Ribbon Award of Merit, given to the pack for its volunteer work in the recent Goodwill drive.

Cubmaster William Hoff announced the plans for the summer fun activities. There will be a picnic at Vasona park on June 22 at 5:30, and a family night at the San Jose Bees baseball game on July 26.

Plans are also being made for a hike and a trip through the saw mill at Boulder Creek in August.

POLICE ESCORT--Mrs. Edmund G. Brown, wife of the governor, paid a brief visit to Campbell last Wednesday as part of a tour in connection with her duties as chairman of the Governor's Advisory Committee on California Beauty.

"Over 65" get break in new Gubser bill

A bill introduced in Congress by Congressman Charles S. Gubser (R-Calif.) would restore the right of citizens over 65 to deduct the full cost of medical care from income taxes.

The Gubser bill would repeal the portion of the Federal Medicare Act of 1965 which eliminated the full deduction of medical costs previously allowed senior citizens.

In introducing the bill, Gubser said, "It is obvious that the 1965 law deprives all persons over 65 who are not in the Medicare program of a right they previously enjoyed and gives nothing in return.

I believe strongly that when a person reaches 65 he has a right to be considered in a different tax category... his earning capacity has stopped or materially lessened ... the fruits of his lifetime of labor have been partially denied him by inflation... and his susceptibility to illness and his need for medical care are vastly increased."

The Tenth District Congressman pointed to a tremendous shortage of hospital beds, trained doctors, nurses and medical personnel which is now acute and and will become more so when Federal Medicare becomes effective.

"It is possible," he said "that the promise of medical care contained in the 1965 law, which was given in exchange for increased tax liability to our senior citizens, may be delayed."

SUPERIOR CADET--Gordon H. Kubota, of 18781 Allendale, Saratoga, a senior economics major at the University of Santa Clara, was among the 16 ROTC cadets at the university who received awards at the annual president's review and awards ceremony. Kubota received the superior cadet decoration award.
